Notes

Activation Text is unique to your computer and depends on your computer ID. It is not needed to keep Activation Text "in a safe place". You can install and reinstall Windows on the same computer many times, and then you can activate the program on the same computer as many times as you need. You can obtain activation text repeatedly on the same computer, and our activation server will treat repeated activation as the same activation.

In the case you change your hard disk, just follow this activation procedure again on new system.

Our activation server counts the number of computers on which the program was activated. It considers the activation with your license key and new computer ID as new activation. Total number of activations is limited.

In future, if you rebuild your system or change the hard disk on your computer and our activation server replies that the number of activations allowed for your license key is exceeded, please send us a contact message. We will increment the activations counter associated with your license key.

Please contact us if you have any troubles with activation.
